It is of interest to observe that with this increased investment in means of production the output shows only a slight increase in total pounds. The number of gill nets used is slightly increased, but the value is less than in the previous year. The increase in the value of the line equipment indicates an even greater use of that form of apparatus. This phase of the salmon industry is of especial value in that it affords labor for men with capital insufficient to engage in the other branches of the fishery, and at an opportune season.-The fact that the wages paid dropped from 347,7 37 to 341,87 6 does not contradict this statement. The fish are sold by piece. Products.--The pack this year amounted to 3,164 tierces, valued at $286,041, a...
