The losing hazard thus described can always be accomplished if there is room for the object ball to pass without kissing. LOSING HAZARD. When the balls are in this position, and the player s ball in hand, he must play to hole it in the right-hand corner pocket. It will require a strong side twist, and he must not play it with more strength than sufficient to double his opponent s ball over to the red. In all probability, the balls will not be more than four inches apart, and will leave, consequently, the prospect of a...
